

The New Alexandria Lesbian Library

A ROOM FULL OF MIRRORS, WITH THE SOUND OF WATERS MOVING

Near Northampton, Massachusetts, in Leeds on the Mill River, a unique Lesbian collection is settled, built by Lesbians nationally and supported by Lesbians autonomously since 1974. NALL presently has gathered, preserves, makes visible and accessible to Lesbians close to 1500 books, over 250 periodical titles (many complete sets), extensive subject and regional files, reference guides, bibliographies, catalogs, and a varied landscape of Lesbian published and unpublished papers, correspondence, organizations' logs, records and tapes, videotapes, a slide show, buttons, art, posters, flyers, photos and more. The Library is a proud reflection of the diversity of Lesbian life, thought, work and art.

To browse, read or research in NALL, to add your own Lesbian image to the collection in writing, art or music, or to join library workers at on-going work evenings, phone Bet at (413) 584-7616 evenings or weekends. Write or send Lesbian publications, papers, poems, oral herstories, tapes, books, research questions to the collection at: New Alexandria Lesbian Library ◯ P.O. Box 402 ◯ Florence, MA 01060.

The New Alexandria Lesbian Library. It's a very special collection room full of mirrors, with a view of your moving Lesbianself.
